The Mission

6.30 pm on 14 June,
at the Goethe-Institut, Brussels

Forty million people, worldwide, are fleeing war, violence and death. Since its foundation in 1950 the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), has carried out its mandate, to lead and co-ordinate international action to protect such refugees and resolve refugee problems worldwide.

The Mission charts the journey of three UNHCR refugee aid workers: Claas (31) from Germany, Anita (43) from Austria, and Mathias (39) from Tanzania, from their 10-day training through to a dangerous mission in southern Sudan.

Can they overcome the grave challenges they face and bring assistance to a people who, it seems, know only war?

The film will be followed by a Q&A with:

Stefan Eberlein (Director of The Mission)

Melita Sunjic-Hummel (Head of Communications for UNHCR Brussels)

NB: The film is in English and German with English subtitles. It has a runtime of 105 minutes.
