

13.8.2015 – Partnering with the United Nations (UN), the Mobile Film Festival is encouraging film makers to create one minute videos on their phones that inspire people to ‘Act on Climate Change’.

The Mobile Film Festival pioneered this platform which encourages aspiring filmmakers to create powerful 1 minute films on their mobile. It is dedicated to discovering, supporting and accompanying young directors by providing the opportunity for them to be part of a smart challenge based on a unique idea, ‘1 Mobile, 1 Minute, 1 Film’

This year’s Mobile Film Festival theme focuses on climate change ahead of the Climate Change Conference taking place in Paris in December (COP21).
